

Natural Voice Network

Editorial Policy

NVN will comply with all legislation on discrimination and will not publish any racist or sexist material or anything which discriminates against anyone on the grounds of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, ability/disability, age or mental health.

Material created by NVN and available to the public will reflect the NVN constitution and Code of Practice and its core values.

Material intended for members only may include views expressed by individual members which may not be exactly the same as those of the organisation. This should be made clear in the document.

Documents intended for public distribution, including the monthly Natural Voice News and website content, will be checked and agreed by at least one member appointed by the Trustee Board before publication, to ensure they meet these guidelines.

The Trustee Board reserves the right to remove or refuse to publish material which it considers does not comply with this guidance. Its decision is final.

This policy will be summarised on all documents intended for public distribution.
