

Time to be here

A song of comfort, reassurance and hope by Jane Harris, Songways

Written during the Coronavirus lockdown, this song has been shared online with singers in the US, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands, Ireland and across the UK.

All will be well, it's the time to be here
knowing that all will be well, time to be here

After the storm comes a clear sky, from darkness the light breaks through
Set your feet on the quiet earth, your hand on your heart

Knowing that all will be well...

Across the land and o'er the ocean, voices join in one sweet chord
Lift your eyes to the far shore, your hopes to the stars

Knowing that all will be well...

© Words & music Jane Harris 2021

The score and audio are available as a download here.
<https://www.songways.co.uk/product/time-to-be-here/>

Jane is available to lead singing workshops teaching her own original songs and songs from a wide range of harmony singing traditions.

Contact Jane jane@songways.co.uk to find out more and talk about possibilities.

songways.co.uk